

Hi Sylvie,

I live on the other side of the Rhine. On the level of Rheinau.

France is a black hole for me. One reason is that I don't speak French. In the past we planned several trips to Normandy and Brittany.

However, I have two perspectives:

- On the one side I am irritated by French "protectionism" e.g. the limitation of air time for non-French content in the media. I don't find it open minded.
- On the other side it helps to conserve their culture, identity, and lifestyle e.g. original recipes.

When I visit a different country, I want to experience their authenticity not Disney Land, except the USA.

Best regards
Sebastian

Based on the text, here are grammar questions each on the specified topics: changing tenses, quantifiers, articles, prepositions.

Changing from Present, Past, and Future Tenses

1. Rewrite the sentence in the future tense: "I live on the other side of the Rhine."
2. Change the sentence to past tense: "France is a black hole for me."
3. Convert the sentence into the future perfect tense: "In the past, we planned several trips to Normandy and Brittany."
4. Change the sentence to the present perfect tense: "I visit a different country."

Quantifiers

1. Identify and correct the quantifier in the sentence: "I have two perspectives."
2. Create a question with a quantifier: "How many trips did you plan to Normandy and Brittany?"
3. Modify the sentence using a quantifier: "I don't speak French."
4. Insert a quantifier in the sentence: "France is a black hole for me."
5. Use a quantifier to modify the sentence: "I visit a different country."

Articles

1. Identify the article in the sentence: "I live on the other side of the Rhine."
2. Insert the correct article: "___ France is a black hole for me."
3. Choose the correct article for the blank: "I want to experience ___ authenticity of the country."
4. Fill in the blank with the appropriate article: "I am irritated by ___ French 'protectionism.'"
5. Correct the article usage if needed: "I visit a different country."

Prepositions

1. Identify the preposition in the sentence: "I live on the other side of the Rhine."
2. Fill in the blank with the correct preposition: "I am irritated by French 'protectionism' ___ the limitation of airtime."
3. Choose the correct preposition for the blank: "I want to experience their authenticity, not Disney Land, except ___ the USA."
4. Correct the preposition in the sentence if necessary: "I live on the other side of the Rhine."